EUNAWAY .- Yesterday afternoon a farmer from Johnson county was backing his wagon up to the sidewalk, in front of the carriage establishment of George Lowe, on East Washington street, for the purpose of loading it up with merchandise. In so doing he frightened a borse who was attached to a buggy and hitched to a post near the sidewalk, the property of Mr. Lowe. The horse broke loose from the hitching-post and ran about half a square, dragging the buggy with him. Luckily the horse slipped before he had gone far enough to run over any one, and falling down, he tipped the buggy over, breaking one shaft and damaging it generally. Ten | Lords, at 8 o'clock. > ROBBERY AND ARREST .- Night before last Little's Hotel was the scene of a robbery which considering the circumstances, was an aggravated case. A Mr. Brown, who had recently married and was engaged in spending his honey-moon called at Little's Hotel day before yesterday, and took rooms. On the same night, a confrere, who, it seems, had accompanied him to this city, entered the room of the newly wedded couple. and "feloniously stole, took and carried away" the Benedict's wedding suit, including his hat and substituted in the place of the glossy, new hat, his own seedy sombrero. He was so indis creet as to immediately don the stolen hat, and, while thus wearing it, was gently tapped on the shoulder by a policeman, who informed him that he was his prisoner. He is now in jail awaiting

> EXTRAORDINARY AFFAIR .- On Tuesday night, as a couple of young lovers, who in these col umns shall be nameless, were strolling out Indi ana avenue, profoundly absorbed, no doubt, in the "old, old story," they were suddenly confronted, near Camp Shanks, by three rough looking men clad in soldier's garments. "Your money and your watch," said one to the young gentleman. "Certainly," was the response, and in fumbling for his watch, the gallant spark suddenly drew a pistol and threatened to fire, unless there was a sudden departure of the rogues. The rogues vamosed, one of them apologetically remarking that they didn't; mean anything, and were just having a high officime. The conduct of the young lady, under the circumstances, is said to have been magnificent in the highest degree. When the pistol was drawn she threw herself in front of it and begged that no blood might be spilled. On the return of the lovers. they doubtless fully realized the eloquent recital of Othello, when he says:

"She loved me for the dangers I had passed, And I loved her that she did pity them."

TEMPERANCE LECTURE .- E. H. Unine, Esq., of New York City, will address the citizens of In dianapolis, on temperance, at the Tabernacle, on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mr. Uniac is a tition was numerously signed, and by many of barrister by profession, but like many other of the brightest minds in the nation, contracted habits of intemperance, and finally lost his business and friends. At the opening of the war he enlisted and served three years in the army. He was wounded at Chancellorsville, taken prisoner and served six months in that foul place, Libby Prison. Upon his release he fell into the hand of the Christian Commission, and was led by them to sign the temperance pledge. For a year he labored with the Christian Commission in the army, and advocated the cause of temperance, whereupon he induced 18,000 soldiers to sign the pledge. Such being his history, a man of experience and ability, a crowded house is expected. The house will be warmed comfortably and seats free. Everybody is invited. This opportunity lost cannot be regained. By order of the Committee.
